CHICAGO CONVENTION,

Delegates Still Pouring In-Chance of Candidates-Course Regarding Impeach-ment

|By Mail.]

CHICAGO, May 18.—The crowds arriving on the trains to-day for the Convention have hardly been so large in proportion as those of yesterday. The hotels, however, are full, and at the leading ones a large number of guests were, last night, compelled to content themselves with cots in the markets. selves with cots in the parlors and halls.

The New York delegation is thus far the fullest and the noisiest; the Indiana and Kentucky delegations are not all here, and scarcely one-half the Ohio delegation is yet on the ground. Large numbers of soldiers are here to attend their Convention to-morrow, though there are not thus far very many of high rank, Gens. Sickles, Logan, Frank Herron and Dodge being the most noted.

Among them there are many who settled in the Southern States after the war. These all unife in representing the dangers which the failure of impeadment is sure to bring upon them. Two topics engross all attention: The nomination for the Vice Presidency, and the proper course of the party with reference to the impeadment failure. Indications still are that Wade will lead on the first ballot, but more active work is being done thus far, for one or two other candidates. The New York delegation is attended by a big crowd of out siders, whose expenses are paid on condition that they keep up a tremendous noise for Fenton. Their leaders boast that they have several States sure on the second, if not on the first ballot, besides the 66 of their own delegation.

The Pennsylvanians are hardly so

States sure on the second, it not on the first ballot, besides the 66 of their own delegation.

The Pennsylvanians are hardly so earnest for Curtin as the little Cameron faction in their delegation, is settive and malignant.

The New England delegations have a joint meeting to-night, at which they mean to try to unite on either Wilson or Hamlin, but they have only a slim prospect of success.

Tee Colfax men are not noisy, and thus far there are no signs of their having made any gains. A few outsiders from Indiana are working against Colfax.

Quite a formidable sentiment has manifested itself to-day in favor of Hamlin as the first choice of some Western delegates, and the second choice of a great many. If New England could unite on him, it is probable that he would be Wade's most formidable competitor. Illinois will go pretty largely for him, and the Evening Post here is out in favor of him.

The Wade men figure up a vote of 150 on the first ballot for their favorite, somewhat as follows: Ohio 42, Minnesota S, Nebraska 5, Maryland 14, New Hampshire 10. Kentucky 12, Pennsyl-

Hampshire 10, Kentucky 12, Pennsyl ania 6, Kansas 6, and scattering votes rom several others, including some of he Southern States.
Thus far the Southern delegates are keeping very quiet as to personal preferences. They are anxious to gain admission to the Convention, and are, admission to the Convention, and are, therefore, avoiding any awkward com-mittal. The only one of them con-taining a negro delegation is that from Louistans. He was a member of the late Constitutional Convention in that tate and was known as a Conservative Curtin, and will cast its full strength for Wade.

The New York delegation have passed a resolution indorsing the vote of their Senators in impeasement.

Pennsylvania has not yet organized.
The effort to consolidate New Eugland on one candidate was an utterfailure. There will be five New England candidates: Wilson, Buckingham, Hamlin, Poland and Sprague, from as many different New England States, Among the late arrivals tō-night is Gov. Henry S. Lane, of Indiana.

No one has been found who could give any authority for the rumor concerning the unwillingness of General Grant to accept the nomination. Still the Democratic papers have paraded it at great length, and many are repeating it with more or less decided expressions of incredulity.

Another rumor to-night is to the effect that a messenger was dispatched last night by Grant with a letter addressed to personal friends here for use at the Convention. What its contents are nobody professes to know.

The New York delegation opposes the selection of General Sickles as permanent President on the ground that it may injute Fenton's chances. Some of them urge Senator Cresswell in his stead.

The Pennsylvania delegation have STILL LATER.

The Peansylvania delegation have prospects of a row. Cameron's son is here urging vigorously his father's fight against Curtin and Forney.

Further Successful Experiments with Hillingts Coal.

St. Louis, May 18.—A very interesting experiment has just been completed at the Carondelet Iron Furnace, six miles below St. Louis. P. S. Howlett, who owns a coal mine six miles from Springfield, Ill., brought one hundred tons of coal here to test its capacity for smelting Missouri ore. The result was, he made forty-four tons of iron and had considerable coke left. He made 24 tons of iron in 24 hours, beating the Big Muddy coal eight tons in the same time. The tensile strength of this iron is 27,009 pounds stronger than the standard cold blast charcoal iron, and 11,000 pounds stronger than hot blast charcoal. The cost of the iron was twenty-five dollars and eighteen cents per ton, and sold readily at forty dollars. This cost can be somewhat reduced. Furnaces are to be immediately built at Howlett's coal mines, to which Missouri iron will be transported. Very large sums of money will be invested in this enterprise.
